Formative of the Price of Morocco compared with Horoughout the Bourses of the world there is a very anxious feeling as to the part which the Kaiser intends to play. The unesainess caused by the German Emperor's policy is due to the fact that he represents a nation which is very strong on land, so that none of its neighbours would care to quarrel with it, from now style of modern art. Erru if debired and reliable, active of the power of the good that people, thinks in the your own goods, British made and reliable. Actives the power of the good things of this world, among them trads, shipping, and tolonies. If Germany has est her hard the power of the way must be very strong and coorageous, or must be discrete enough to stand aside and her way must be very strong and coorageous, or must be discrete enough to stand aside and her way must be very strong and coorageous, be politic. For the German have been brought to must be strong which is that of Philip and Alexander and of the Roman republic—that if a nation thinks a thing right im unst be strong where the politic politic politic politic politic politic politic politic politic politic the national character is like that of athletic training upon some men we have seen, who are perhape not always as taotful, as some of their less muscular friends. The German notion of policy is expressed by the word Realpolitif, which means policy that deals with the words as it is and eachews centiment. Now we venture to suggest that in all these German characteristics there is a good deal of practical windom by no means out of place in a world of which we are told that the principle is the strengtle for existence and the survival of the fittest, but at the same time such characteristics do not make for confidence in the durability of peace in Europe, especially at such as moment as the present.

Of course the jealousy we feel in regard to Germany's recent policy in Morocco and elsewhere is historically quite justifiable, for Grast Britain must necessarily oppose the state, which desires to have a preponderance in Europe and the German policy naturally be ? The Germany is equally justified in her policy. What would German policy naturally be ? The German Empire was created in 1871 by the perpetual federation of twenty are German States, some of which had long been among the independent Monarchies of Europe. The Empire has a population of fitty-six millions, so that there are more Germans in Germany than there are white men in the British Empire. A State like the German Empire cannot exist without patriotism, and what should we expect to be the natural idea of every fatriotic German. Surely he will want Germany to flourish and be powerful and to have as much influence in the world as who can possibly get. His nation is civilised. It does a fair share of the world's work in literature, acisnos, and art, in industry and trade, and in all that belongs to national life. Its army has proved itself second to nome. It specific any other. Perhaps the strength will be a surely and history as any other, before has the surely world as who and in all that belongs to history in which he has had exceeded in the control of t

Briain entitled to expect to retain for their country the pre-eminence in the world which they believe it has acquired? History shows that there have quite a number of Empires, including vast territories, compact or scattered resting on land power or on sea power. None of them has hitherto been permanent; why should the British Empire have a title to long duration? What plea can the British advance which would rightly but the ambittion of Germany to be a very great Power in the world?

CAIRO OPERA SEASON.

SIGRA. BELLINCIONI'S SUCCESS.

London, Friday, Jac. 12.

The official and popular assurances which have been made in Germany and elsewhere have dissipated the feary which had been entertained concerning the outcome of the Morocco Conference. Rossia's loan of eleven millions from the French bankers and the immediation of the annuts, have accessed. formance centred on Signs. Bellinoioni, who proved berself to be all that we hid heard or expected of her,—a most admirable artists with a delightful voice, sympathatic at the highest degree from beginning to and. We are indeed lucky to have the honour of hearing her in Cairo, and we shall look forward most eagerly to her appearance in the other operas. Traviata, for example, is a part which she pl. ys ps few can play it—in a word, she is an event in the history of Cairo opera. The rest ! Well the list of names and programue synopsis would serve at a pinch to make an extra paragraph. They are much the same as usual so far. Sig. Polese appeared here for the second time and his voice seems rather stronger than last year. He was distinctly good as the French diplomatist. Signs. Zeppeli was graceful and clever as Countess Olga. The tenor, as Loris,—well, it would be wises to hold one's hand and cease criticism horewith. LOCAL AND GENERAL

EGYPT'S TRADE

NOVEMBER IMPORTS

Anyone giving a casual glance at the Contoms returns for November, and comparing them with the same period last year, would be liable to arrive at the incorrect conclusion that trade during the month in question received a somewhat severe check. It is true that the somewhat awere check. It is tru; that the total imports only amounted to L.B. 1,969,345 fagainst L.E. 2,447,129 in 1904, the devrease being L.E. 477,7*4, but it most be remembered that the closarances during November and December last year were pleanomenally, heavy. About that time merchants and retailers, through commission agents, apparently all thought it necessary to lay in heavy stocks, presembly on the sumption that the country would readily assimilate the same. There is no doubt that in many trades the theory was a doubt that in many trades the theory was stalse one, and buyers have had to curtail their purchases this year.

In November 1904 the gross imports totalled In November 1904 the gross imports totalled LE.2.447,129 against LE. 1,652 231 for the same month the previous year, the difference being an increase of no less than LE. 794,998. This later sum included such substantial gains as LE 154,587 in cotton fabrics, LE. 8,126,659 in wood, and fifteen other increases of over LE. 15,000 each. In view of this enormous expansion, it is fratly astonishing to find that B.E. 15,000 each. In view of this enormous expansion, it is hardly astonishing to find that the present November figures fall considerably short of those for 1904, but the fact that they sare L.E. 317,114 greater than the returns for 1903 is in itself a proof that trade is not making a retrogressive movement.

Out of the 15 categories into which the whole of the imports are divided, we find that, compared with 1904, only two of them show an increase for November viz. "Greatle" show an increase for November viz: "Cereala" and "Chemical Products"—the latter being a very minor division may practically be elimi nated. Every other group was down, the losse ranging from L.E. 267,356 in textiles to unde ranging from LE 267,356 in textiles to under LE 1,000 in paper etc.

With this exceptions of socks and carpets (the former due to the requirements of the cotton season) each class under textiles was lower than leat year. There is no doubt merchants are finding the present season & bad one for Manchester, goods, though, thanks to large, arrivals during February, March and April, the Customs, figures for cotton fabrics only show a loss of LE 31,488 from the lat only show a loss of L E. 31,48° from the 1st January. For November, however, the returns for this partic lar class were L E. 155,557 ower than in 1901. Who en goods, which are L.E. 94,709 down on the year, lost L.E. 40,982 during the month.

The classification comprising timber, coal, furniture, etc., had a drop of L.E. 122 743, the oss on the first-named being L.E. 55 527 and on coal L.E. 57.887. Dity was paid on 54,893 tons against 119.796 in 1904, the decrease being thus 61.9 3 tons.

"The metal olass, which showed an expansion of L. E. 110.235 for October, shared in the falling off during November to the extent of L. E. 60.192, the main contributions to this figure being, "Iron" and ironwork" with a loss of L. P. 61.25 and the contribution of the figure being. "Iron" and ironwork" with a loss of L. P. 62.

The sogar imports for November were 1,733,531 kilos lower than during the same period in 1904, the loss in the value returns being L. E. 54,322.

The only merchan's for whom November produced satisfactory increases were those dealing in wheat, make and flour, —though the dreg and chemical trade did a lagor business by L.E. 16,822 than last year. Month by month the cereal class is going ahead, and we are new L.E. 71,799 higher than last year for the periol 1st January to 30th November. For the month under discussion, the wheat imports were up by 4,350,799 kilos, and flour, by 3,663,370 kilos, the inpreased value being L.E. 33,207 and L.E. 31,833 respectively. The maistream were higher by L.E. 44,738.

It is only natural when a large decrease takes place in the total returns for the country that we should have correspondingly heavy shrinkage, in Great Britain's figures. It is, therefore, not surprising to find that, out of the gross decrease of L.E. 477,734, the home country was responsible for no less than LE 278,253. A poreas of the fifth column of

The member why very kindly compiles our Manchester Goods Report, has touched on the rearon for the tiemendous drop in the returns for cotton fabrics, and it is, therefore unnecessary for us to say anything on the subject We may perhap just mention that this imports of cotton goods during November were 1,350,641 kilos and 661,011 metres less than during the reason against last was:

The "Iron and ironwork" figures were lower hy L. E.13;233, and "Brass copper and browse" goods decreased to the extent of L. E. 5,855. "Under the heading of "Instrumenta", a shrinkage of L. BRITISH COMPETITORS.

"We can only hope that the authorities at the Treasury are aware of the competition? which is taking place in the purchase of Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities, and will deal liberally with the British Museum."

liberally with the British Museum."
In these words one of the leading English Egyptologists, in conversation with a Standard's representative, summed up a situation which is causing some concern amongst British antiquarians at the present moment. It is an openret that the museums of other countries specially those of Germany) are running the (especially those of Germany) are running the trustees of the British Museum very hard, particularly as they are prepared to pay what a few years ago would have been considered fabulous prices for good-objects. Besides this, the Egyptologist remarked, "it has become fashionable for American millionaires to give to their native towns an Egyptian museum or to their native towns an Egyptian indeed out museums, and these institutions send out enterprising agents to Egypt who, having an abundant supply of money, snap up everything in the shape of Egyptian or Assyrian anti-quities. Certain it is that if the trustees of the British Museum are not assisted score effectually than has been the case bitherto, ind the objects offered to them are not pur and the objects offered to them are not purchased as they appear, the chance of acquiring them will be lost for ever."

Many priceless treasures have slipped through the fiegers of the British Museum for want of Treasury grants, and in the absence of that patriotic sentiment amongst weal hy Englishmen which is so conspicuous amongst our friends on the other side of the Atlantic. Only during the past week it has been reported on the best authority that Mr. Rockfeller has commissioned an American Attanto. Only during the pass week it has been reported on the best authority that Mr. Rockefeller has commissioned an American Egyptologist to survey the whole of the Sadan, beginning at Khartoum, and going to the sea, and has given him the means to collect any autiquities he may meet with.

Those with remember the department of Egyptian and Assyrian autiquities in the British. Museum in the old days, during the directorship of Dr. Birch, will recollect that as acquisitions arrived they were simply dumped into the messum, and that owing to insufficiency of staff and pother reasons fall use, was not made of the valuable information acquired, and the objects were not arranged in any consecutive order. When the great revival of interest in Egyptian antiquities took place. interest in Egyptian antiquities took place, of interest in Egyptian antiquities took place, however, after the Egyptian war, a flood of relies poured into the national treasure house, and the authorities of the British Musuum decided to set their house in order.

With the view of making the collection valuable not only to the recondite archmologist and antiquarian, but also as a great educational institution, they inaugurated a new policy, the immediate effect of which is that each gallery and room in the department has been overhanded in the course of the last 16 years. Practically every room has been fitted been overhanded in the course of the last 16 years. Practically every room has been fitted with new cases, and the objects are now exhibited in a manner which enables them to be seen and appreciated. They were never so well seen before. In addition to this, the trustegs ordered that every object should, be labelled fully, and this work has been going on steadily now for a considerable number of years. Year by year, first the Nineveh gallery, then the Nimroud gallery, the Assyrian saloon, the Babylonian room, and the four Expetian Babylonian room, and the four Exptian fooms one by one emerge from the hands of the authorities rearranged and relabelled. It has been pleasing also to note the appearance of three excellent guide books, fully illustrat-ed, relating to the antiquities exhibited in the rooms referred to.

But it is in the Egyptian Gallery, which for the rooms referred to.

But it is in the Egyptian Gallery, which for many years remained in the same condition, that the change is most marked. A comprehensive system of re-arrangement is here manifest. The vestibule, which was formerly a sort of atoreroom for antiquities of all periode, has been emptied and refilled with cases, and has a new but priceless collection of monuments of the first six dynasties of Egyptian civilisation. One may be mistaken, but one does not remember having seen anything similar to the filest of these objects anywhere class, except in Cairo. The Mastaba door of P-tah-mes is at once a walrable, historical, and interesting object. Walking down the gallery from north to south, a great many new objects are to be seen, and these, it is understood, have been acquired within the last few years. The authorities are making the rearrangement chronologically, and in order to carry their plan out systematically they have found it necessary to practically move forward t necessary to practically move forward after number of the objects by two or

MODERN EGYPT.

"Al Mosyad" says :- Egypt, as described "At Monyad" says — Egypt, as described by Herodotus and other writers after him, is a wonderful country, but the state of the Egyptian Government nowadays is much more surprising. All though it has got a very wide reputation for dealing out justice and freedom to the nation, and has obtained a great deal of praise and thanks, the Government has still many across defeated to the hards are the still many across defeated. On the hards are of praise and thanks, the Government has still many serious defects. On its heads are be-towed the qualities of deities. For example, Lord Cromer is entitled the "Crestor of Modern Egypt" and so, on. The external condition of the country is indeed bright but beyond these outward and visible signs there are many troubles and much misery, proving that the Government pays but little heed to the most essential questions. The Egyptian Government does not take as its motto "Work for the welfare of the nation," as other Government do, and the lack of education and the wretched state of the "popple afford evidence that the Government does not deserve any such praise. The British Government, which used to raise no obstacles to personal freedom, has recent'y decided to reject from Eggland every foreigner who may be found unable to supply himself with his own needs. Why does not Egypt, which "reserves thousands and the standard to the standard to the standard to the supply himself with his own needs. Why does not Egypt, which "reserves thousands and the supplement to the supplement of t still many serious defects. On its heads are not Egypt, which receives thousands thousands of foreigners from every part and thousands of foreigners from every part of the world, adopt the sime system I it must be noticed that the real danger which menaces Egypt is not the loss of independence, but the influx of the thousands of people who come every week to live in the valley of the Nile under the protection of the Capitulations. If this danger is not stopped by the Gayarmant the faring almosts? the Capitulations. If this danger is not stopped by the Government the foreign elements of the population will preponderate in Egypt, overwheles the natives, and deprive them of the comforts of life and make the present confusion worse confounded.

Exhortation to Egypt.

"Al Meayad" publishes a leading article, seven columns in length, which is the seventh of a series of articles entitled "In the Valley of Thoughts." It purports to be signed by a native Christian but appears to have been Thoughts." It purports to be signed by a native Christian but appears to have been written by a Moslem. We make the following extracts: The sons of Egypt, who, it was expected, would appear to improving our present condition, have deserted us, and, thinking that they are quite secure, they gave themselves up to a licentious life and spoiled, our state of society. Thus, it is no wonder if our most cherished belongings pass finally into the hands if the people of the West. What a shame! Do the Egyptians expect, after such behavior and such a tacit consent, to secure their own prosperity in their mother land? O, my brethren, what excuse can you offer for yourselves? The English are human beings just as you are. Why do you neglect the land of your home while they, being surrounded by its fertures, take the greatest interest in it." its firtures, take the greatest interest in it."

Do you think to find a better and more prosperous home? You are diligent and intelligent. Europe us, you have been the first to study our country and learn of our shortcomings, and so you benefit by our precious land as long as you res us slumbering. You are wonderfully hard workers, and we are wonderfully sloathful. But we are the sons of those forefathers who filled the world with wisdom and culture and who held themselves far above the potentages of the Eastern Empires and the Persian kings. Our youthful countrymen have filled their minds with the longing for vein luxury and thereby have lost precious time; but should they begin energetically to put an end to their desperate condition and better, their understanding, the outcome would be good and they would get back what they had been losing for so long.

We o'early observe those who get their education in European languages look entirely to the countries of Europe, we can see also mary young natives wearing hats 'a la mode' and masquerading as European languages much more than their own. This class of youth can be noticed doing its utmost to adopt European habits, style, fashions, and sentiments, knowing nothing or very little of their own country and people. How can such people love their home. He was quite right who said, 'In lesing your language' you lose yourself.'' The its firtures, take the greatest interest in it. Do you think to find a better and more pros-and people. How can such people love their home? He was quite right who said, "In losing your language you lose yourself." The English are politically ruining our language with a view to undermining our society and undoing our unity for ever. Some people, however, would say, perhaps, "How is that; did not the English reform our land and beautify our capital? Are not our people living in a glorious state of unlimited freedom, through the reforms the Euglish have intro through the reforms the Euglish have intro-duced?" We reply to such questions in the affirmative, but add that our friends, the English, are only working for themselves. They are improving the land of Egypt for their own benefit and not for the sake of the natives, who have not there y advanced to any better state. The authority of the Go vernment being in British hands our Egyptian, Ministers, who occupy the highest positions, find very little to do for the welfare of their Fatherland.

Honorable Sir .—Kindly oblige the author by inerting in the columns of the organ of freethought and civilisation, the "Gazette," the following laconic, medico-phraseological remarks.

The elicited reply of the honorable medica The elicited reply of the honorable medical gentlemen is only partially enlightening to the mass in general on their decision regarding the medical practitioners' fee. The essential part is still unanswered, i.e. to elucidate to the public the ones responsible for this decision, so that those who do not wish to pay the ise decided upon, may know whom to avoid.

Nevertheless, their reply testifies to the Alexandrians and the inhabitants of Egypt in general who severely consured the medical body of Alexandria as non-scientific and Mammon worshippers, that the body thus sollectively by the Press and otherwise, did collectively by the Fress and otherwise, did not all participate in these proceedings. The word "Order" from a phrasec-philolo-gical stand point of view implies a harsh mandate to enforce that upon which decision fell. This is legible but to governments where the failure to comply with, or carry out, an order, can be enforced.

In modern usage, this is limited to military spheres and districts where partial or complete martial law is proclaimed, such as in some of the Russian Provinces.

Civil anthorities generally call "Attention" simply to what they proclaim. No one dreams of martial law proclaimed at Alexandria, for it is too well encouraged to have efficies leading.

of martial law proclaimed at Alexandria, for it is too well governed to have affairs leading thereto. Yet the honorable gentlemen employ the word "Order" for what they have decided. This is well instanced by the Director General of the Sanitary Dept., when he calls practitioners "Attention" regarding antidipheneric serum and the sporadic cases of diphtheria that have already infested certain parts. He does not "Order" the doctors concerned, but merely calls their "Attention," though there are certain laws that impose certain but merely calls their "Attention," though there are certain laws that impose certain obligatory duties on practitioners to the State in connection with the Public Health. This calling of "Attention" inflicts penalties on these who fail to execute the caution; Yet with this, the sharp word "Order" was not used.

If by the decision, is only meant the few pertaining to the honorable Society, the form of the decision as published, impressed the public and the reading world at large, with the 1des that it was the mandatary of the Medical des that it was the mandatary of the Medical dos instit was the mandatary of the Medical Body of Alexandris; this presumption, of course, is not entertained by the honorable gentlemen, for they are quite aware that they-forgot to consult the opinion of their colleagues of the City.

it ought to have been so formulated or phrased as to inform the public that the decision was not the ordeal of the Medical Corps of Alexnot the order of the Medical Corps of Alex-andria. It is hoped that the respected gentle-nen will make known to the public those who has decided that sequent blame may not fall on the shoulders of the others who did not share this opinion.

By the elucidative answer the honorable nen gave, the public panic which was gentiemen gave, in public panic which was unfoundedly aroused, ought now to be appeared to serene tranquillity and censure no further the Medical Body, for in their last. smmunication the honorable gentlemen concerned, retract their former decision to cling to humanitarian. ism. ARMY AND NAVY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

London, January 3.

The cruiser Minerva, Ceptain A. W. Way-mouth, now at Alexandris, will complete her commission with the Mediterranean Fleet in June next. She will be recommissioned for another tour of service on the station.

The Egyptian drafts, the list of the trooping season, will embark at Southampton on the 10th prox. for Alexandria.

Lieutenant A.E. F. Harris, Royal Berkshire Regiment, has been placed on duty with the draft which the 1st Battalion is preparing to join the 2nd Battalion in Egypt. This draft, like the others, embarks on the 10th February

The cruiser Mildura was paid off at Shee ness on Saturday last, disarmed, and disman-tled, preparatory to being placed on the sale list, after close on fifteen years' service on the Anstralian Station.

The Admiralty, having observed that very indifferent results were obtained from the six-pounder game during the battle practice which was carried out in the past year by torpedo-boat destroyers, has decided, with the view of giving the gun-layers more practice during the current year, that the annual practice allowance of six-pounder ammunition for those vessels shall be increased from 40 to So rounds you gam. fractice showards of six pounder administration for those vessels shall be increased, from 40 to 80 rounds per gun. The attention of officers in command of torpedo-boat destroyers has also been drawn to the necessity of exercising the utmost care in carrying out target practice, besring in mind that the object of all such practice is training for battle, the gunnery efficiency for which is judged by the present battle practice. The Admiraty has ordered that a detailed summary of all misfires, delays, and failures to fire are to be included in the report of the captain, and the attention of officers in command of flotillas has been called to the necessity of furnishing this information

THEATRE ZIZINIA

La troupe de Comédie française a débuté hier soir au Zizinis par la pièce de Molière: "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme".

Il y avait peu de monde dans la salle, mais les loges étaient bien garnies. A peine Coquelin Cadet a til fait son apparition sur la sechae qu'il a été salué par de vifá applaudissements.

La pièce a été bien exésutés jueque dans ses moindres détails: ce qui frappe, en effet, dès l'abord, c'est le choix judicieux qui s été fisit des éléments secondaires, et l'habileté avec laquelle des rôles ont été distribués: a M. Daragon, le rèle belliqueux du mattre d'armes, à M. Bayle celui plus retors de mattre de philosophie, à M. Frémont, célui de mattre de masque. M. Monteux, que nous avons déjà en philosophie, a M. Frémont. cellui de mattre de danse et à -M. Lorain celui de mattre de misique. M. Monteux, que nous avons déjà en l'occasion d'apprécier l'année dernière a é é insinuant à souhait dans le rôle de Dorants. Les actrices ont toutes été ravissantes: Mme Patry en Mme Jourdain, Mme Françaet en Dorimène, Mme Baylat en Nicole et Mme Guerraz en Lucile. Mile Mariette Lamberti a été exquise dans la danse de la Gavotte au 1er acte.

Quant à M. Coquelin Cadet, nous n'avons guéro besoin de faire valoir ses qualités, car il est universellement goûté et applaudi. Il a fort bien personnifié le bourgeois gentithonme dat ses manies de grandeur.

Veilà pour l'interprétation. La comédie ellemen n'a pas plu à tout le monde, Quelques uns lui trouvent l'air un peu démodé. C'est capendant une comédie d'un genre qu'une peut vieillir, car si certains tours de phrases sont maintenant hors de mode, le thème lui-même reste étérnel: le bourgeois gentilhomme a toujours existé et existent coujours.

La représentation a pris fin avec trois mone logues de Coquelin Cadet: "Salut à Molière", "l''Art d'étre Moderne", et "La Gracouille et la Bourg". Inutile de dire que le succès a été. ...

MILAN is a good centre for Northern Italy before making the torr of the Lakes. The Catifiedra is the principal attraction, with its beautiful windows illustrating the History of the Bible. The public pardens and the monumersal elemetery are also worth a visit.

Between Bologna and Milan and only anhour and-a half from Milan is ALISOMAG-GIORE, a renowined health resont on account of its thermal sprangs, change trains at Borgo San Donino and in half-an-hour you are at Salsomaggiore.

it will be warmer than Rome, and more uniformly warm than many other places in Europe Many people leave Egypt far too early in the year, for as a rule the weather in April and May is perfect. The warmest place to go to on leaving Egypt is Sicily.

Some will want to take into censideration the number of days to be spent at sea, and we therefore subjoin a list showing the time occupied on each of the various routes between Egypt and the Continent of Europe.

From Naples to ROME is a train journey of but five hours. All who can, will devote at least one week to visiting the many historical and interesting portions of the Eternal City whose charms and beauties are too well-known to need comment here.

Leaving the Eternal City with much regret, a-railway journey of five hours brings you to PLORENCE. where another week can well be spent admiring the City of Flowers and its sorrounding country. In Florence itself the churches and galleries are of absorbing interest, whilst the local promenades and excursions should not be omitted: The Cascine is the most attractive and fashionable promenade in Flowers whilst the local promenade.

sions should not be omitted. The Cascine is the most attractive and fashionable promenade in Florence, whilst the Viale dei Colli; one of the finest walks in Europe, opened, 35 years ago, goes winding up through the hills a distance of four miles. The most delightful excursion outside Florence is that to Vallombrosa, with its Monastery 3,300 feet, above the sca level. This is made first by ordinary train from Florence to St. Ellero, thence by cogwheel gailway to Sattino. The ascent through groves of oaks takes an hour, and most striking panorames are unfolded to view.

The direct route to Sicily is by the Florio-Rubattino Co.'s steamers which leave Alexandria weekly for MESSINA, where one takes train to TAORMINA, one of the most charming and popular places on the island. Giardini is the station at which to alight, and the drive up to Taornina is most delightful, occupying about one hour. In and around the town is much to interest the visitor. steamers are largely patronised by travelection Expyrt.

As regards the train journeys from Cairo, the shortest is that to Alexandria, without change (3 hours). That to Port Said, can now be made without change in 44 hours.

The least expensive way to England is by the Moss, Papayanni, Erince, and Westcott lines of steamers from Alexandria to Liverpool. The German Levant line has also good steamers from Alexandria to Hamburg.

The most expensive but quickest through Continental routes are by P. & O. Brindisi express from Port Said, and the Austrian Lloyd Trieste Vienna express from Alexandria. As regards heavy luggage, it must be borne in mind that very little luggage is allowed free on the railways of Europe, but there are several good and responsible forwarding agents in Egypt who undertake at a fixed charge to deliver packages to any address in Europe. VENICE is a 5 hours journey by rait from Milan, and one of the most delightful places imaginable to pass a quiet stay. The total absence of vehicular traffic strikes one as very strange; no horse, cart, carriage or bicycle is to be seen, and yet there is the sound of life at every turn. The approach, to Venice from the Adriatic is unlike that of any other seaport. The town seems to be gradrally, like Aphrodite, born of thesea, no hills behind, no stretches of rock, but first the tops of Campaniles appear above the horizon, then slowly the whole glittering town rises, like a fairy mirage out of the calm lagoon.

Going northwards from Milan you make the tour of the beautiful Halian lakes.

COMO, the birthplace of the younger Pliny, is reached in one and a-quarter hours by train by way of Monza:

Boats leave Como frequently for the other towns on the lake, which is very beautiful, and the seenery one rither side going up the lake is most enchanting. GERNOBBIO is a charming spot; then come Tremezzo, Cadenabbia, and Menaggio with the prettily situated town of Bellaggio opposite. The walk from Tremezzo along the shore of the lake to Menaggio is most enjoyable. A steam tram runs from Menaggio of an hour, then stelmer to Lugano in two and three-quarter hours.

Many people visit Greece after wintering in Egypt, as it is so easily reached from Alexandria; the climate in April is charming. The best steamers are those of the Khedivial Mail Co. and the Russian Steam Navigation Co.

If possible tourists, should arrange to be in Athens for the Orthodox Easter in order to witness the Good Friday and Easter Eve. ceremonies, and to be presen at the dancing on the Easter-Tueeday iestival held at Megara for which a special train is run from Athens.

HOTEL DE L'EUROPE

Switzerland, the heart of Europe, has been described as "A cluster of delights and grandeurs."

I GANO is some 20 miles from Como and reached by train-in one-and-a-half hours. It has a population of 10,000 people and is charmingly situated on the take of Lugano, amidst lovely Italian scenery. Around it rise M. San Salvatore, M. de Caprino and M. Generoso.

LOCARNO may be reached by rail from Bellinzona in forty minntes. This pretty town, situated at the top of Lake Maggiore, has a mild climate, and is an excellent winter resort. The church Madonna del Sasso, situated above the town, is worth a visit, as it contains interesting paintings, "Entombment," by Ciseri, and "The Flight into Egypt," by Bramantion.

LUCERNE.—A striking picture on the Lake of Lucerne facing the Rigi and Pilatus and the snow-clad Alps.

In and around the town the walks are charming, and the excursions to be made from Lucerne by boat, rail, etc., are very numerous, The Luke of Lucerne abounds in delightful excursions, those to the Rigi, Pilatus, Burgenstock and Sonnenberg needing a special visit each, Other excursions on the lake car be made by steamer, and the ever-changing scenery on the trip from Lucerne to Pluclen is a source of delight to the lover of nature.

BRUNNEN, charmingly situated on the most beautiful part of the Lake of Lucerne, commands magnificent views of lake and mountain scenery. Along the Lake of Lucerne, commands magnificent views of lake and mountain scenery. Along the Lake of Uri from Brunnen to Fluelen runs the famous Axentrasse.
